Purpose

Performance review is a critical factor in achieving organizational vision, mission and strategy. Performance reviews are driven by our organization’s leadership and linked to the business planning process. It is a vehicle for implementing strategic change, building new cultures and turning organizational initiatives from ideas to reality. The Executive Director (ED) plays a critical role in moving the organization towards its goals. As a result, a performance review process established for the ED is critical in helping the organization to achieve its desired results.

The performance review process establishes a shared understanding about what is to be achieved, and how it is to be achieved, and identifies an approach to managing people that increases the probability of achieving success. It is not just about a set of forms or the annual review/appraisal process – it is ongoing and fluid throughout employment.

Accessibility

Any performance management forms, templates or policies will be made available in an accessible format, such as large print, when requested. All completed documents will be kept confidential.

Policy

The performance review process will be conducted on an annual basis for all levels of management. The following guidelines will apply to the respective positions:

Executive Director

1. Conducted in April/May of each year, the Board Chair shall ensure the annual performance review of the ED, incorporating feedback from members of the Board and other multi-rater feedback.
2. Multi-rater feedback will be solicited from the following parties:
  - a) Chairs of committees of the Board
  - b) All members of the Senior Management team
  - c) 4 Community Partners
  - d) National and Provincial partners and/or associations as relevant

Effective Date: November 2014		Authorized by: Board of Directors

3. Feedback will be solicited by the end of March of each year, sent out by the Board Chair, to be returned in confidence no later than mid April of review year. Simultaneously with the multi-rater feedback, the ED is asked to perform self-evaluation on prescribed form.
4. The Board Chair gathers the multi-rater feedback and reviews results with Chairs of Board Committees for input.
5. Board Chair and ED arrange meeting by early May to discuss self-evaluation and the multi-rater feedback.
6. The results of the current review periods goals and objectives are discussed and documented at the review meeting.
7. Once the information contained in the review is agreed upon by the Board Chair and the ED, the review is taken to the Board for final approval in private session.
8. Upon approval by the Board, the review is copied for the incumbent and the original signed review is placed in a sealed envelope, indicating on the envelope that it is to be opened only by the Board Chair and placed in the Employee File held by the Human Resources Department.

Multi-Rater Feedback

The multi-rater feedback approach is part of a balanced approach to performance management in which input is gained from a variety of key people to provide feedback to the executive director to show the impact of his/her motivation and management style on the climate and business results of the organization.

It is used to:

- assist in leadership and management development of the ED
- assess the impact of the ED's managerial style on team effectiveness
- provide information to the performance management process
- assess culture and organizational change initiatives

All feedback should be confidential. At the same time, caution should be exercised in interpreting the results of the multi-rater feedback. Performance evaluation is not a "popularity contest." Although the ED may be acting in the best interests of the organization, some individuals or groups may be unhappy with his/her performance because of how they or their particular interests are affected.

Planning

All good processes start with a plan. The planning process should be rooted in communication, where goals and expectations are laid out in terms that are clear and meaningful from the perspectives of all stakeholders. This plan confirms in writing what the priorities of work should be.

 Canadian Mental Health Association Waterloo Wellington		Association canadienne pour la santé mentale Waterloo Wellington		Board

The plan should specify both the “what” and “how”:

- What should be accomplished in the job (i.e., goals and objectives)
- How those results are achieved (i.e., competencies)

Performance Feedback

A “best practices” performance review system will have mechanisms or opportunities for regular feedback, as well as more formal periodic reviews. This follows the coaching model, where interest and commitment are required from both parties in ensuring that performance expectations are met.

Performance Objectives

Performance objectives should be established annually based on the organization’s goals and objectives. For all objectives, specific measures or criteria should be defined at the beginning of the measurement cycle. These measures will be used to evaluate performance.

The annual performance objectives should be reviewed by the reviewer and incumbent at the time of the formal review. This process ensures that all parties are aligned with respect to the expectations for performance. These objectives should be periodically revisited throughout the year. It is not uncommon for issues to arise during the course of the year that affect the ability of the Executive Director to carry out certain agreed-upon objectives. In addition, unforeseen circumstances may arise that take precedence over objectives that were determined at the beginning of the year.

Policy

There are three main roles for the Board with respect to performance monitoring and assessment:

- i. Ensuring that management has identified appropriate performance metrics (measures of performance);
- ii. Monitoring organizational and board performance against board approved performance targets and performance metrics; and
- iii. Ensuring that management has plans in place to address variances from performance targets and overseeing implementation of remediation plans.

The Board will ensure that the Executive Director (ED) of CMHA WW implements an effective performance management system, based on performance metrics for measuring and continuously improving the organization's performance. The Board will approve the targets and performance metrics for monitoring organization performance in achieving financial, quality, safety and human resource targets using best practices and benchmarks.

The ED will establish an annual schedule of specific performance reports to the Board of Directors and appropriate Board Committees. These performance reports are intended to support the Board in its responsibility to monitor and assess the organization's performance related to the established targets and performance metrics.

Policy

The Board will review and approve policies and processes for reporting to the public on the performance of CMHA WW in quality of care and client and staff safety and those measures which are being undertaken to foster continuous improvement and mitigate risk.

Public reporting on client safety issues provides valuable data that can help reduce risk and improve outcomes. Clear and standardized reporting by all healthcare organizations in the province will help create a culture of client safety in which present and future health professionals learn from things that go wrong and use and share knowledge across the system to reduce or eliminate the risk.

CMHA WW will collect data to comply with legislative requirements and Ministry directives on public reporting. The data will be posted on CMHA WW's public website and be reported to all funders.

Management will ensure there are defined accountabilities and processes that support the collection, reporting and posting of indicator data in accordance with Ministry directives.

Policy

The Board is responsible for monitoring performance metrics of quality and effectiveness of client care. Board policy calls for the Performance, Quality and Ethics Committee to monitor, through the Quality and Enterprise Risk Management Framework, trends in client care comment and/or concerns and report these regularly to the Board.

The identification, investigation and management of individual client feedback or concerns which, in part, form the basis of this trend analysis, are addressed by CMHA WW staff through the Quality and Enterprise Risk Management framework, a process for which the Executive Director (ED) bears responsibility.

The Board also encourages feedback from staff, clients, and families as a key instrument to continuous improvement to achieving the goal of outstanding care always. To optimize the usefulness of feedback provided to Board members, members will refer such feedback to be addressed within CMHA WW's staff, client and community relations processes. The Board will not review individual concerns.

Should a concern relating to a client's situation be addressed to a Director of the Board or Board Committee member verbally, that member should accept such feedback with thanks and, to avert the potential for unintended errors in message transmission by the member, encourage the complainant to forward it directly to the ED whose responsibility it is to ensure that it is addressed using the established resolution process. For privacy purpose, any identifying information relate to a complaint should be communicated by phone, rather than by email. The ED will be advised by the Board member that a complaint has been received. For reasons of privacy and the protection of confidential information, any identifying information related to a complaint should be communicated by phone, rather than by email.

If the concern is addressed to either a Director of the Board or member of a Board Committee in writing, he/she will forward a copy of the letter to the ED and will provide notice of receiving the concern to the Board President. Thereafter, the concern will be addressed using the established resolution process.

PHILOSOPHY

The Board of Directors believes in the importance of a positive working relationship between the employer and employees, whether members of a bargaining unit or not, and in the case of unionized employees, their representatives. These relationships are governed by the Employment Standards Act, the Ontario Human Rights Code and for members of a bargaining unit, the Ontario Labour Relations Act and the collective agreement. The relationship between CMHA WW and staff will be guided by fairness, transparency, effective two way communication and consultation and a commitment to mutual gain and benefit.

PRINCIPLES

1. The elected CMHA WW Board governs the negotiation mandate, but does not actively participate in collective bargaining.
2. A negotiated contract has a significant impact on the organization's budget and has major human resource implications. This requires that the Board retains ultimate authority in approving any negotiated contract.

AUTHORIZATION

1. The Board must approve the mandate and ratify any tentative agreement before it can be signed and implemented.
2. The Senior Director of People, Culture & Quality will choose the negotiating Team and has the authority to bargain within the parameters of the Board goals and priorities.
3. The Executive Director is authorized to implement procedures in support of this policy.

Policy

Board agenda packages should be accurate, timely, balanced, relevant, and clear, sufficiently detailed and will ensure each Board meeting contributes effectively to the discharge of the Board's governance role. The purpose of this policy is to:

- To ensure that board members understand the process for the development of, and have an opportunity to have input into, board agendas.
- To facilitate productive, efficient and effective board meetings.
- To ensure agendas are structured to align with the specific roles and responsibilities of the Board clearly indicating those matters that require Board policy direction, decision or oversight.

The Board elects to use a consent agenda for Board of Director meetings for the passage of noncontroversial or routine board business, allowing more time for education and discussion of more substantive/strategic issues. Consent items are those which usually do not require discussion or explanation prior to Board action or are items which have already been discussed and/or explained and do not require further discussion or explanation.

Consent agenda items may include, but are not limited to:

1. Approval of previous minutes;
2. Approval of routine policies and procedures,
3. Routine Committee Reports;
4. Reports provided for information;
5. Correspondence requiring no action;
6. The proposed action would not require a board member to disclose a potential conflict or otherwise abstain from voting.

Procedure – Guidelines for Developing Board Agendas

1. It is the responsibility of the chair, in consultation with the CEO, to develop the agenda for board/committee meetings. Agendas are usually determined ten (10) days prior to a meeting.
2. Agendas are to be divided into two sections: the Main Agenda and the Consent.
3. Agendas are to be structured to clearly differentiate the role of the Board regarding each item, i.e., policy formulation, decision-making, monitoring (oversight).
4. The consent agenda contains all items that are either routine business or noncontroversial items of business that may be considered en masse by a single vote of the Board, but shall be separately recorded in the minutes of the meeting. A vote against adoption of the consent agenda shall be recorded as a nay vote on each item placed on the consent agenda and shall be recorded as such.

Effective Date: January, 2014		Authorized by: Board of Directors		To be reviewed/revised: November 2019

5. A numbered list of consent items as part of the main meeting agenda will be created. Each agenda item will be identified as informational, for decision or discussion required along with an individual assigned.
6. All documentation regarding Consent Agenda items must be provided to the members in advance of the meeting along with the complete agenda.
7. Members are to review all documentation provided prior to the meeting date.
8. A Board member who wishes to add an item to the Board's agenda should speak with the board chair.
9. If the board member and the chair are not in agreement, then the board member may, on notice to the chair, raise the request during the call for additions to the agenda at the time of the meeting, and the matter shall be determined by the board.
10. To the extent possible, and in advance of the meeting, members with questions and concerns regarding any Consent Agenda items are asked to make direct contact with the person listed as Responsible on the Agenda.
11. During the meeting, at the time of the adoption of the Agenda, the Chair will advise the Members of any items that are to be removed from the list, based on any prior requests from members. The Chair will then ask if any member wishes to remove an item from the consent agenda for separate consideration as part of the Main Agenda.
12. Any items removed will be placed on the agenda immediately following the approval of the Consent Agenda.
13. The remaining Consent Agenda items are then approved as a group without further discussion.
14. The minutes of the meeting will report each matter approved or ratified as part of the consent agenda. Any information items received as part of the consent agenda will be reported as received.
15. The use of the consent agenda will be evaluated annually.
16. Agenda packages will be sent out to directors no later than 5 business days prior to the scheduled board meeting; unless extraneous circumstances arise in which case directors will be notified of the delay.

Policy

The CMHA WW's Board of Directors is committed to high performance governance. Attaining a high level of excellence requires articulating and enacting an approach to governance based on best practices, sound principles, and policies that clearly define why and for what purposes the board exists and what it must do and how it should go about doing it.

The CMHA WW board has adopted the Modified Pointer Orlikoff<sup>1</sup> governance model to define and guide its functions and activities (see Appendix A for a more detailed overview of the model). The model includes six responsibilities for the Board:

1. Contributing and approving organizational ends – including vision, mission, key goals and strategic direction.
2. Providing for Excellent Management
3. Ensuring Program Quality and Effectiveness
4. Ensuring Financial, Operational and Organizational Viability
5. Ensuring Board Effectiveness
6. Fostering Relationships

The board fulfills these 6 responsibilities through 3 primary roles:

1. Policy formulation
2. Decision-making
3. Oversight

The manner in which the Board governs is through policy formation and monitoring. Policies are how the Board directs the organization and its staff by specifying what the Board wants done, what the organization should and should not do and what are acceptable and unacceptable means for accomplishing specific goals. Board policies also set limits and constraints on the authority delegated to the Executive Director.

The CMHA WW Board policies are organized to the six primary responsibilities of the Board of Directors:

- Establish Strategic Direction

APPENDIX A

Overview of Governance Model

The Modified Pointer and Orlikoff model is the philosophical foundation for the Ontario Hospital Association’s governance approach described in the Guide to Good Governance<sup>2</sup>. The Pointer Orlikoff model was built on the experience of the Carver Model and emphasizes the importance of separating governance from management and the Board’s central role in providing the strategic policy leadership. The Pointer Orlikoff model differs from the Carver approach by placing a greater emphasis on the role of the Board in oversight. The term “Modified” comes from the work of Maureen Quigley, who played a key role in the development of OHA’s guide to Good Governance, and who added “Building Relationships” to the list of principal Board responsibilities in the original Pointer and Orlikoff governance framework.

According to Pointer and Orlikoff, a board’s most important obligation is to “...represent, advance and protect stakeholder interests: deciding and acting on their behalf, serving as their agent.” This requires the board to clearly define its stakeholders and to understand what the stakeholders want and expect from the organization.

This commitment to represent and act in the best interests of stakeholders is reflected in statutory and case law as a board’s legal duty of loyalty and duty of care. A board must act in the best interests of stakeholders rather than for personal or third party gain (duty of loyalty); and must exercise sound, prudent and reasonable judgment when deciding and acting on behalf of stakeholders (duty of care).

A board fulfils its obligations and fiduciary responsibilities by clearly defining what it focuses on and how it functions. Pointer and Orlikoff identify two key aspects of board work: fulfilling responsibilities and performing roles. Responsibilities are the important issues and matters that a board must focus on and include:

- 1) The organization’s mandate, goals and direction
- 2) Executive Performance
- 3) Quality
- 4) Finances
- 5) Board Effectiveness

6) Building Relationships (added by Maureen Quigley)

The three board roles which enable a board to meet its responsibilities are oversight, decision making and policy formulation.

CMHA WW's Framework for Governance

CMHA WW's approach to governance is ground in the following principles of governance and accountability.

3. The Board acts at all times in the best interests of CMHA WW, having regard for its accountability to its clients, the communities serviced and its funders.

Policy

All Board members and committee members are expected to attend all Board meetings and all meetings of the committees to which they are members. ### Process

1. If a Board member is in breach of their attendance requirements or there is an attendance issue then the President will consult them to discuss this matter.
2. If the Board member's difficulties are resolvable, then the President will attempt to resolve them.
3. If no mutually satisfactory resolution is possible, the President will ask the Board member to resign.
4. If the Board member refuses to resign, then the member's response will be put to the Board at its next meeting. The Board member will be entitled to speak to this item, and to have it voted upon. The Board will then decide what actions to take regarding that Board member's future membership on the Board.
5. If the decision is to terminate the Board member, then in accordance with BOD Policy 5-010 Removal of a Director, a special meeting of the Members of the corporation must be called for the purposes of removing a Board member.

PURPOSE

As part of its responsibility for ensuring Board effectiveness, the Board of CMHA WW recognizes that the development of annual Board goals and a work plan is an important component of effective governance in order to:

This policy sets out processes to support the Board in fulfilling this responsibility.

Policy

The Board will establish annual goals to reflect its own priorities and performance and to focus the work, time, attention and structure of the Board.

Board goals will be translated into the annual Board work plan to ensure that they are implemented through the work of the Board and its committees. The work plan is the primary tool used by the Board to coordinate activities related to achieving its goals and to track the status of the goals at the Board and standing committees.

The Board work plan used in combination with the Board goals provides the benchmark for annually evaluating the performance of the Board in relation to its roles and responsibilities.

Board Goals

On an annual basis, the Board will establish goals that are consistent with the strategic priorities and goals of CMHA WW, the annual operating plan and the specific objectives that the Board must address in the coming year.
